Democratic Intolerance.

Since the incorporation of Republican institutions upon the American Continent, no party or sect has ever existed whose whole policy was so characterized by intolerance as the Rebel-Democratic-McClellan party of 1864. It is very common to hear the licentious traitors prate of the strait-laced Puritans, of the Blue Laws of Connecticut, of witch hanging in Massachusetts, and as a whole, of the Puritanical habits, customs and prejudices of the New England States. The Main Liquor Law was an abomination in the eyes of the whole Democracy and the appointment of its author—General Neal Dow—to lead the stalwart sons of the Pine Tree State to the defence of the Union was an insult to the whole chivalric and corn-distilling "Sons of Freedom." The fugitive slave laws of the Yankees in the Old Bay State were a gross violation of the Constitution of the United States. Freedom to make State laws and domestic regulations was the peculiar property of those States in which slavery existed. Slavery legalized and sanctified by the domestic regulations of a Southern State, became National—not local. The Democratic doctrine of "State Rights" did not comprehend privileges for any party to the Federal compact within whose borders slavery did not by local law exist. Massachusetts had no right to declare all persons within her State boundaries—not charged with crime—freemen without regard to nationality, color or lineage. South Carolina, by her internal regulations could at any time compel the citizens of Massachusetts to turn negro-hunters and catchers, make them leave their lawful business and search from New York to the Atlantic, and from Vermont to Connecticut to arrest the son or daughter of a white master and return them to a life-bondage of which the laws of their State was not cognizant of which they had no experimental knowledge, and from a contemplation of which all that was Christ-like, noble and generous in their natures shrunk with horror and disgust.—Charles Sumner could be made to ferret out the hiding-place of the blue eyed and fair-haired daughter of his would-be murderer, Preston L. Brooks, and surrender her up, tearful and trembling, to the pitiless lash of her black-hearted owner by purchase. A vessel from Charleston, S. C., can go to Boston, Mass., with her crew of negro slaves, and the whole majesty of the Constitution and the Laws of the United States—by Democratic interpretation—is invoked and stands ready and potent to protect the sable chattles from contamination by the air and soil of freedom. No local law of the Sovereign State of Massachusetts but what must be suspended whenever the black shadow of human bondage is thrown against the granite sides of Bunker Hill Monument or Faneuil Hall. Per contra—a vessel from Boston arrives in the harbor of Charleston, S. C., and if perchance any of her crew have that peculiar wave to the hair which microscopic investigation discerns as peculiar to African descent—for plantation licentiousness has so mixed up maters between owner and property that it is often difficult to tell which is most entitled to freedom from the driver's whip—and it is only by the most delicate tests of science and not that the discrimination can sometimes be perfected—if it is found that there are negroes on board, they are removed to a prison on shore, and the Yankee captain and owners deprived of their services until the dreaded and hated representative of the commerce of a free State is ready to leave the latitude of their peculiar institution.

Such is the principle of State Rights as advocated and defended by the Democratic party to-day. Such has been the State Rights practiced by the Democracy for years, and until the Northern Freemen, in the majesty of their numerical strength at the ballot box in 1860, decided should be protected no longer. They elected Abraham Lincoln. The slaveocracy seeing that their Northern tools and tools were no longer effective to keep them in power, availed themselves of the occasion of Mr. Lincoln's election to carry out what for thirty-five years they had been preparing for, and the base administration of Buchanan permitted them to perfect their measures for the ruin of the country they could no longer rule.

It was fully hoped by the traitors North and South, that James Buchanan would be the last of a race of Presidents over the whole United States, but they counted without their host, for the reelection of Abraham Lincoln by those who love the Union—not with lip-service like little Mac and his adherents, but with their whole hearts—will crush out the last hope of treason: the Union will be restored; equal rights and equal laws will prevail in all parts of the States, and with or without slavery, the local regulations of any one State will not stultify or suspend the regulations of a citizen. This is not the kind of State rights desired by the frothy shriekers for McClellan who now profane the quiet of the night in Oregon, but it is what we shall have, and what will suit every true American citizen, native or adopted.

An Onward Movement Balked.—If McClellan in arms, marching at the head of a speed of three miles a day, was unable to overtake Lee, how long will it require him, marching under the craven's banner inscribed with: "Peace, by granting what the rebels demand!" to go from Chicago to the White House; the States of Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania (the election returns) to prevent him to cross their borders? Against such overwhelming numbers, even McClellan's vaunted "strategy" cannot prevail. Let him intrench, as usual, and sit still.

Appointments for Grant County.—Wm. Blair Hill, County Judge; Thos. H. Brents, Clerk; M. N. Berry, Sheriff; Wm. Luce, and E. S. Penfield County Commissioners.

[illegible] members of the Judiciary Committee the following amendments to the code adopted at this session, were proposed by Mr. Pyle. The Statesman credits them to other persons probably by mistake:

Section 27 is amended so as to require an appeal to be taken to the Supreme Court in thirty days and to the Circuit Court in thirty days instead of one year before allowed, should have been credited to Mr. Pyle who first suggested the amendment and urged it most.

Section 412 is amended so as to allow a seal with [illegible] and section [illegible] amended so as to authorize Clerks of the Supreme and Circuit Courts to take acknowledgments of deeds and other instruments of writing, should also be credited to Pyle who first urged the changes.

Union Demonstration in California.—Saturday evening, [illegible], witnessed the grandest political demonstration which has ever taken place on the Pacific coast, was held in San Francisco. Four hundred merchants, or more, closed their places of business at four o'clock [illegible] to take part in the procession. The Sacramento Union's dispatch says:

"The streets and houses on the intended line of march, were decorated with flags, and the cannon from Clay street hill belched forth their continuous notes, and as darkness came on, bonfires were lighted and the streets enlivened with the sounds of martial music as the various District Clubs passed through them to take their position on the line of march. The procession commenced moving about 8 o'clock, marched to the northern portion of the city, as far as Filbert street, thence to South Park, and from thence to the Pavilion. It was composed of the various District Union Clubs, delegates from Nevada Territory, from Tuolumne county, from Petaluma, and from Oakland; firemen, butchers, draymen, foundrymen, fishermen with one of their fishing boats, Germans, Hibernians, Mexicans, Chileños and other Spanish Americans with their national flags, United States soldiers, Marine Club, and stevedores, city and county officials, etc., etc., with bands of music and lanterns innumerable and as they marched firing rockets, roman candles, red and blue lights. The transparencies were great in numbers, and inscribed with all sorts of good Union mottoes, and many of them painted with laughter-provoking devices, not calculated to be relished by Copperheads and Secessionists. There were continuous cheers for the ladies as they waived their handkerchiefs from buildings, cheers for illuminated buildings, etc. The Union Central Club displayed the motto, reaching across Montgomery street, 'We will fight it out on this line.' The Russ and Lick houses were superbly decorated with flags and gay colored lanterns. The procession was over two miles long, marching four persons abreast, and was fifty six minutes passing a given point. It was estimated to consist of seven thousand five hundred men, and was two hours on the march to the Pavilion, which was finely illuminated. Addresses were made by W. H. L. Barnes and Nathan Porter. Tremendous cheering was given for Lincoln, Johnson and Grant. During the procession, not only were the streets illuminated on the line of march, but Union citizens generally illuminated their dwellings."

The vessels in the harbor were also decorated with flags and lanterns in great numbers, and it was a political demonstration that will long be remembered.

On the same evening there was a Union demonstration at Stockton, California, in which there was some 4,000 persons in the procession.

Apology for McClellan.—It is said that McClellan assured Vallandigham that if nominated at Chicago he would accept and place himself [illegible], or at least entirely, on the platform, though every plank of it is [illegible] with peace. But he did not keep the promise if he ever made it, which is only matter of [illegible] and of testimony. The New York Times of September 13th suggests the probable and most plausible apology for McClellan under the circumstances:

The fall of Atlanta was hardly of just three days after the adjournment of the convention. It came like a thunderbolt in a clear sky. It kindled the war spirit everywhere into new life. It was felt by McClellan, or rather by those who have [illegible] engaged that in these altered circumstances it would be simply courting defeat for him to stick to the platform. McClellan, therefore, in his letter of acceptance, shifted his position, but in such fashion that he thought Vallandigham would not complain of it. He kept his left leg on, while he put his right leg off. It was a very awkward position; loyal men hold it to be a very ridiculous one, but he hoped that, considering the emergency, it would be accounted a virtue not sticking to promise, especially as he [illegible] to tell the committee that he believed the [illegible] the attitude of the convention. It was a mistake. Mr. Vallandigham, [illegible] McClellan had placed himself, angrily [illegible] and is now understood to be [illegible] in [illegible].

McClellan as [illegible].—When McClellan was before Richmond in 1862, he might easily have entered that city, there being scarcely an obstacle between his army and that place; but instead of moving forward, the "Great Cunctator" dug a pit, [illegible] himself in it, and began to whine about the superior forces of the enemy and his own need of [illegible]. He [illegible] against the [illegible] White House in [illegible] and his rebel friends, aware of [illegible] looking for "red [illegible]" are making [illegible] to furnish him [illegible] [illegible] bushwhackers into Kansas, Missouri and Kentucky, to fill up [illegible] and [illegible]. On the 8th of November, the people will force McClellan to perform another [illegible] strategy, [illegible] and [illegible], and [illegible] the [illegible] the White House, as he did the "spires and towers of Richmond," [illegible] from his ken forever.

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that IT IS WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' time, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED TO give entire satisfaction, even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION; IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. [illegible] bottle.

BOILS.

WE READ THAT ONE OF the sorest afflictions that the patient Job was called upon to bear was that of boils, and they have been found to be, from that time to the present, the most troublesome and painful of visitors. We have known instances where individuals were sure to have these eruptions break out upon them once a month at least. They show an impure state of the blood, and that humor of some kind is lurking there, and the overplus of corruption is actually forced to the surface of the body, making its appearance in the form of Boils. Now, is it not best at once to purify the system? Do you ask what will do this! We answer, Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. It is curing humors in every form, and there is not a State in the Union where it has not accomplished the most astonishing cures. Tobacco in Oregon.—Those of Oregon who have attempted to raise tobacco the past season have been very successful. With proper care [illegible] it will become the most valuable crop grown in the State [illegible] will require another year [illegible] curing [illegible] is utterly [illegible] best methods, twelve months will be [illegible] properly for market, but even then it will [illegible] the cultivator better than [illegible] seen and examined tobacco [illegible] Lavaty, of Tualatin [illegible] and had, at [illegible] raised and capable [illegible] will make as [illegible] of Natural [illegible] for this purpose [illegible] flavor and texture being [illegible] There is [illegible] tobacco from the [illegible] nature [illegible] The Oregon tobacco, however [illegible] a good quality [illegible] Richmond, and all that [illegible] manufacturer [illegible] give it a fair trial [illegible] If the farmers will [illegible] cultivate [illegible] proper attention to drying [illegible] it will command a good price.

The Oregon Mist.—[illegible] direction to Portland [illegible] "Oregon Mist" that [illegible] of names we soon expect their complaint to be entered at the throne of Divine [illegible] of any more of the [illegible] Such an event would [illegible] the people growing [illegible] valley [illegible] but just at the present time we appear to be having our usual supply from the [illegible] the space above us [illegible] published a rhapsody on water [illegible] were mainly confined [illegible] the religious [illegible] human family. They did not once allude to its [illegible] as a fertilizer [illegible] how sadly deficient [illegible] mentioned its absolute necessity [illegible] of life, both human and animal, on the [illegible] plains of America, [illegible] the thought into Oregon [illegible] would be without her regular annual [illegible] know too well the virtues of water [illegible] application, and notwithstanding it has destroyed much property [illegible] we [illegible] disadvantages [illegible] dampness and we shall never complain so [illegible] of it, but that [illegible] will again [illegible] at the appointed time with the accustomed [illegible]

Vandalism.—As will be seen by the card of the Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department and the Foreman of Columbian Engine [illegible] the hand of the Vandal has been once more raised forth in Portland. This makes about the [illegible] attempt to ruin property in this city during the past eight months, and we may well suppose that the fiend in human shape [illegible] and no man, no family dwelling [illegible] will be safe until the [illegible] is arrested and executed. From all we are able to learn he [illegible] from [illegible] east of the Cascades [illegible] mouth of the Willamette, and we think the [illegible] of this city would be well paid if they would [illegible] his arrest by the offer of $500 in gold [illegible] his apprehension and detection.

Theatrical.—The dramatic company of Mr J. Potter arrived by the steamer from the Cascades [illegible] evening, and will open Willamette Theatre to [illegible] the favorite play of "Griselda," in which Miss Julia Dean Hayne will appear in her great [illegible] character of Griselda. She will be supported by Mr G. B. Waldron and the strength of the company. Many old artistes will appear during [illegible] who have been absent from Portland a long time, among whom we observe the name of [illegible] formerly Miss Sue Robinson.

Personal.—We had the pleasure of a call from Hon. Mr. Pyle last evening. Mr. P. was the [illegible] Senator from Baker and Umatilla counties, [illegible] deserve the gratitude of the people he [illegible] more than that Hon. gentleman himself [illegible] the session of the Legislature just closed [illegible] labored hard and faithful for his constituents, and his influence among the members [illegible] him considerable in carrying his measures.

Very Inconvenient.—A law of Congress provides that no letter can be transmitted in the care of an express, from one place to another, outside of the [illegible] bag, unless inclosed in a government stamp envelope. Our own experience in this matter [illegible] is a very inconvenient arrangement, especial[illegible] when there are no "government stamped envelopes" to be had.

Indicted.—The three Bush brothers have each been indicted at the United States District Court in [illegible] Judge Wyche presiding, for the murder of [illegible] Sullivan, Sheriff of Skamania county, W. T. [illegible] Potter was remanded to Walla Walla to [illegible] his term of 15 years at hard labor. Court is [illegible] session and the trial of the Bush brothers is [illegible] to come off at the present term.

Telegraph Extension.—Superintendent Gamble of the California State Telegraph leaves by boat to [illegible] for the Dalles, with a view [illegible] the continuation of the line to the [illegible] The extension [illegible] Victoria from this city [illegible] completed to Seattle, which will be the [illegible] terminus of the wire.

Snipe.—The rains of night before last and [illegible] have brought out the snipe pretty freely [illegible] hunters were [illegible] after them yesterday [illegible] birds lay close and [illegible] a dish of the favorite [illegible] will be served up to [illegible]

Returned.—Messrs Wakefield and [illegible] Representatives, have returned from the Capital [illegible] gentlemen gave us a call yesterday [illegible] looking well and hardly [illegible] notwithstanding [illegible] arduous duties during the past six weeks.

Ripe Raspberries.—It may seem a little out of season to be picking ripe raspberries at this time in the year, but we have some fresh ones in our office picked a few days since from vines in the garden of [illegible] Talbot in this city.

Exports.—The bark Jane A. Falkinburg, Capt. James Frost, sailed for [illegible] yesterday and [illegible] finish her cargo there for San Francisco. She carries 240 tons of assorted produce from this market for California.

Committee Meeting.—The meeting of the [illegible] subscribers to the fund for clearing out the Willamette [illegible] adjourned last evening after authorizing the [illegible] committee to have their report [illegible]

Union County.

EDITOR OREGONIAN: Union County having been organized by the present Legislature, it may be of interest to some of your readers to receive a short description of its location, resources and future prospects. Union county is composed of that portion of Baker county which lies north of [illegible] Washington Territory, [illegible] the summit of the Blue Mountains [illegible] between the 45th and 46th [illegible] and 117th and 118th [illegible] and it extends from north to [illegible] miles, and from east to west 70 miles. Grande Ronde Valley is situated in the geographical center of the county, and surrounded on all sides by lofty mountains, and watered by pure [illegible] springs, which [illegible] healthy atmosphere and salubrious climate. The valley [illegible] townships of rich arable lands, which has proved to be remarkably productive for all the cereals and vegetables incident to a temperate climate, and from its proximity to the extensive mines of Boise, Owyhee, Powder River and Eagle creek, secures it an unlimited and highly remunerative market. The county now contains about two thousand and five hundred inhabitants. Its seat of government is Le Grande—a thriving town of about eight hundred inhabitants, situated immediately at the eastern base of the Blue Mountains, on a sloping prairie, and watered by a pure mountain stream. The town supports two good schools, sixteen stores, four hotels, two livery stables, four blacksmith shops, two saloons, &c., and being located on the emigrant road leading from the Atlantic States to the Pacific, and from the amount of freight and travel to and from the mines above, serve to make it truly a busy mart. The towns of Union on the east, and Oro Dell on the west sides of the valley are smaller but lively towns. There are at present four sawmills in operation, and one flouring mill in course of construction in the valley. There is an immense quantity of hay secured here yearly, on which to subsist the great number of animals used in freighting to the mines. It having been proved by past experience to be the best place to winter such stock. The past three winters (being the only winters spent in the valley by whites), have been comparatively mild, no snow having remained on the ground in the centre of the valley, and but just enough on the sides to make good sleighing, which is greatly enjoyed by the miners who winter here.

All the surveyed lands here have been located as school lands by the State. There is considerable good land yet vacant and subject to entry by actual settlers at Government price. There has been an agency established at La Grande where settlers can apply and purchase from one quarter to a half section thereby saving the trouble and expense of going to Oregon City with their witnesses to make their final proof at the Government Land Office. This arrangement is of great benefit to this section of country in facilitating its settlement, and now from the facts presented it is evident that here is an opening for industrious and enterprising men to secure for themselves and families cheap, healthy and happy homes, and place themselves in a situation to secure their full share of the golden treasures from the adjacent mines, which have proved beyond a doubt to be the richest and most extensive in the world; and judging from the past and present prospects, Union county, at no very distant day will compare favorably in point of wealth and population to this State.

D. C.

WHO GOT UP THE REBELLION?—It is a favorite game of the Copperheads to charge that the "Abolitionists" got up the war in which the nation is now involved. Of course, the subject will not bear discussion, as the facts are too plain to be debated. We submit these facts, by stating that during the Administration of James Buchanan the following events occurred:

Dec. 20, 1860—South Carolina seceded.
Jan. 9, 1861—Mississippi seceded.
Jan. 10, 1861—Florida seceded.
Jan. 19, 1861—Georgia seceded.
Jan. 31, 1861—Louisiana revolted.
Feb. 1, 1861—Texas revolted.
Feb. 5, 1861—Arkansas revolted.
Feb. 9, 1861—Jefferson Davis was elected President of the Southern Confederacy.
Feb. 18, 1861—Jefferson Davis was inaugurated.

Now who got up the rebellion? Under which king?
